frank's "visit timperley" competition

hello oink readers... i bet you let wished you lived in timperley like me! as... apart from being the centre of the show-biz world... it has many many fantastic and ace things.

Like..... a post office with 2 (yes 2) post boxes outside!..... a cycle shop (which also sells model kits, paint and bikes!..... 4 hairdressers (that i can think of at the moment!)..... and also it has a greengrocer's on the corner, which inspired me to write my hit song-"greengrocer on the corner."

and now.... i am offering an all-expenses paid trip of a life-time, 2nd class rail return ticket for you and a friend... where i shall meet you and be your guide. you will also get to go on one of my fantastic radio programmes and meet my 'oh blimey big band' (but not before we've played you some of my fantastic songs).... so, to enter... just answer the questions, cut-out the coupon... and send it to- frank's visit timperley comp. % oink, p.o. box 35, hyde, cheshire, SK14 5nb.

frank sidelottom... (that's me) with photographic proof that there are 2 (yes 2!) post boxes outside timperley post-office in timperley

PIGGY PRESSCUTTINGS!!

OINK!'s the comic that really makes the news!

Comic strip

OINK!, the children's comic with a cut following among students, has been banished from shelves of its shops along with the "adult" magazines. The retailer claims it has received complaints from parents outraged by Oink!'s satirical swipes at cherished values.

Posh papers report on us...

Computer mags plug into the fun...

The first issue of Oink! was given away free with 2000 AD with the first on sale issue appearing a fortnight later. This incorporated a free flexidisk which featured...

FROM ZZAP!

tuned a couple of piggy pop tunes. The new, fresh approach paid off and the publication rapidly gained buyers and adults alike. One local radio station even included the record in its top ten playlist!

The comic is published fortnightly, featuring regular anti-establishment - and funny, Spooks on - traditional, comic characters. TV and films appear from time to time, and each issue has a theme which runs throughout.

FROM THE SUNDAY TIMES

Mary had a little lampoon

COLOURFUL character "Mary Lighthouse" is heading for the comic strip Hall of Fame. One hundred thousand readers look forward to her misadventures each week as she rumpages through the pages of Oink! - a comic based on pigs - cral... engine humour.

The popular press prefer our porky publication...

... and the hippest fashion magazines imitate our swinish STYLE!

Cuttings from Richard Eames, Guildford; S. Thorp, Pontefract; J. Hughes, Southport; F. Kennet, Bristol.

CRITIC'S CORNER by Mary Lighthouse

My bad-taste booby-prize goes to an OINK! reader from Woking, who sent this picture of a 'crazy' butcher! I'm not surprised that you readers are so horrid to nice, harmless butchers... after all, you're a bunch of little swines!

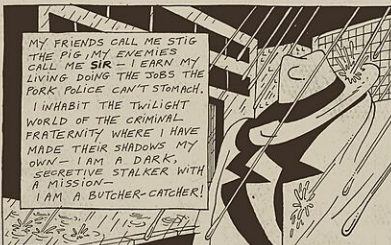

Funny! When I let her have this corner, I didn't think Mrs. L. would say such nice things about you readers!

— Uncle Pigg.

The Secret Diary of Hadrian VI<sup>e</sup> - Aged 8 $\frac{5}{8}$  (years)

Last issyoo, I toled yoo how me and dad had to rush mum to the hospiterl, 'cos shes was about to hav a barbee!!! (whitch ruined ever plans for a days out by the way).

Dad drowve lyke a luney! It was dedd eksiting!

P.C. Plodd tried to stop us for speeding, but he didn't have a chance! (I played 'Gangsters and Car Chases' with him, for a bit of a joke)...

We'd almost reached the hospital, when we found that dad

Dad was cant up driving

Wile and explained
things to the policemen.
I got out the sailboard
I'd packed for over days out...

Now thanks to my brilliant greenyus idear,
we nailed through getting sum to the
'hospiter!!!

The doctors tukk mu
operayting theater,
toled us to wate...

I wantid to watch the operashun, but dad sed
it wad upset me...

( which is stupid,
'cos I've watched hole horror films without clowning my eyes once:)

So I had to keep dad company, while he pretended not to be worried...

WRITTEN BY MARK ROBERS

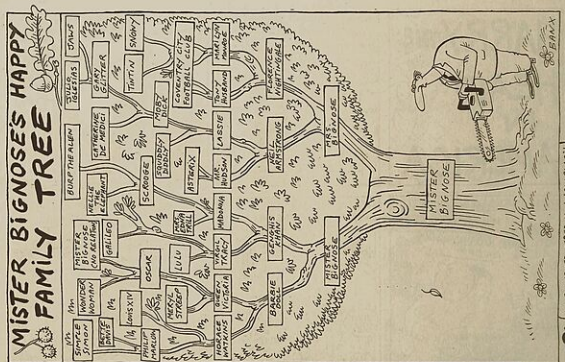

Finisley, the doctor cayme and toled us that we had had a littel gurl ( whitch is grate, 'cos gurls lyke noppie dolls and ponies etc.. so i won't hav to share my toys and deadd insects with her)...

And they let us go
and see mum and mi
new sister...

HOW TO USE YOUR CUT-OUT 'HAPPY FAMILIES' CARDS!

On the centre pages and back cover of this issue you'll find a great set of OINK! Happy Families cards. Undo the staples, detach the 3 pages from the comic, paste them on to thin card, and cut along the straight black lines. You'll end up with 36 different cards! (If you don't want to cut up your comic, you'll have to buy a second copy!).

BELOW ARE DETAILS OF ONE GAME YOU CAN PLAY WITH THESE CARDS! I'LL AWARD A PIGGY PRIZE TO ANY READER WHO SENDS IN IDEAS FOR OTHER GAMES TO PLAY WITH THEM THAT I THINK ARE WORTH PRINTING!

HOW TO PLAY

3 or more can play.
Object of the game is to collect more sets of 'Happy Families' than your opponents (4 cards in each set).
Shuffle and deal all the cards, face down. Players look at their own cards and decide which cards are needed to complete a family. The player to left of the dealer asks any other player for a card, naming which particular card they want (e.g. MRS. POLONEY - or BUTCHER 2, if you can't remember the name!). The player asking must already hold one or more members of the same family that they're requesting. If the player asked holds the card requested, they must give it up -- in which case the player who asked goes on asking other players for cards until they get a 'NO' reply. The person who replies 'NO' to a request then gets a chance to ask other players for cards, and so on.

Play carries on 'til all Families are complete. When a player holds no more cards, they're out of the game. If a player finishes by making a Family, the player who gave up the last card continues play. When all Families are complete, the player with the most Families is declared 'KING PIG' (or 'QUEEN SOW'), and everybody has to be jolly nice to them, or else!
